hello
boat

we are at a beach in South Wales, the place where land and water meet.

Johand usually doesn't like water because his face is made of ink but today he enjoys playing a mermaid.

I point Johand towards the ocean where a boat sits, undaunted & majestic.

Inspired, Johann takes

Inspector Orlando takes a dip and then a plunge

until he floats majestically like a mermaid, or a boat and I can't wipe the smile off his face.
